Washington Goes Dry.

The city elections in New Jersey yesterday resulted in the Democrats gaining ground. The campaign was waged chiefly on local issues, and was particularly interesting in Jersey City, Hoboken and Paterson. The victory for Edward Hoos, the Democratic candidate for Mayor in Jersey City, is regarded as a party triumph.

In Paterson, Vice-President Hobart's home, the same medicine was given him as to President McKinley in the Clinton election. John Hinchcliffe, the Democratic candidate, defeated George Ashley, Republican, for Mayor, by 1,600, according to incomplete returns. Hobart won last fall by 3,493. The county, which gave 6,000 for Hobart, will go about 3,000 Democratic. The Board of Aldermen will stand; Republicans, 3; Democrats, 6; Socialists, 1.

The elections in Jersey City and Hoboken passed quietly. There was but little excitement at the polls, few clashes occurring between the Republican police and the Democratic watchers sworn in as deputy sheriffs by Sheriff Heller.

The returns were received slowly at Police Headquarters last night, but the election of Edward Hoos, the Democratic candidate for Mayor appeared assured by about 2,000 majority. The returns also gave about eight Aldermen to the Democrats. William F. Klink, Republican candidate for Alderman-at-Large, was running far ahead of his ticket. The Republican leaders received the returns at the Union League Club and in the office of Mayor Wanser at City Hall. The news of the Democratic victory was not relished by them, but they found consolation in Klink's splendid run.

In Hoboken the returns assure Mayor Fagan's election for the third time by a handsome majority.

Bewig, Erlenkauff, Langan, McGovern and Stenwald, Democratic candidates for Councilmen in Hoboken, were elected.

The re-election in Bayonne resulted in the choice of Egbert Seymour, Democrat, for Mayor, over Alexander Dallas, Republican, and William C. Farr, Independent, by a majority of about 1,000.

Joseph McCormick, Charles McQuillan, John H. Donohoe, Charles McGee, Democrats, and Edmund E. Stinson, Republican, were elected to the Common Council. That body now stands eight Democrats to three Republicans. Schuyler L. Mackie, J. A. Knowles, Patrick Galvin, Hugh Sharkey, Democrats, and Frederick E. Chamberlain, Republican, were elected school trustees. The Board of Education stand nine Democrats to six Republicans.

The Elizabeth Council remains Democratic. The Board of Education will also be Democratic.

Late returns indicate that the Democrats carried Paterson. The Democratic candidate for Mayor, Deputy, was elected by a majority of 20. J. J. Vreeland, Republican candidate for member of the Board of Freeholders, was elected by 100 majority. W. G. Galloway, Democrat, was elected to the Board of Freeholders, was elected by 80 majority.

The Democrats elected two councilmen and the Republicans three. The Democrats will control the Common Council and the control of the Board of Freeholders will be divided.

The Democrats elected all the minor officers. The Democrats of Newark got control of the Common Council. They elected the same number of members of the School Board.

At Jersey City, the Democrats were elected to the Board of Works, the latter by twelve majority.

Repeaters in Newark.
There were no disturbances at the polls in Newark, but several suspected "repeaters" were warned not to attempt to cast ballots, and four arrests were made.

There was in the Second District of the Second Ward, where a young man was trying to secure a transfer to another district. He gave his name as John Oakes. A white man, giving his name as "Edward Johnson," was arrested for trying to vote at the polls. The name of the man was not given. It was said that the real Edward Johnson was a colored man. John Moore, a button maker, attempted to vote at another man's name at the Fourth District of the Second Ward. He was recognized and arrested. Edward Martin was arrested and the Fourth Ward of the Seventh Ward for a similar reason.

The Democrats of Harrison elected Aldermen and School Trustees in all four wards. The Democrats were elected by 275. East Newark elected Edward Kenny, Democratic candidate for Mayor.

Camden's City Clerk Arrested.
City Clerk Varney, of Camden, was arrested during the election, laws in that city, for violating the laws in that city.

There was a dispute as to whether the name of the man was not given. It was said that the real Edward Johnson was a colored man. John Moore, a button maker, attempted to vote at another man's name at the Fourth District of the Second Ward. He was recognized and arrested. Edward Martin was arrested and the Fourth Ward of the Seventh Ward for a similar reason.

One-Sided in Bloomfield.

The election in Bloomfield was a one-sided affair, the only contest being in the Third Ward for member of the Town Committee. The ticket was elected as follows: Committee at-Large, G. Lee Smith; Town Committee, First Ward, James H. Moore; Second Ward, George Fisher; Third Ward, Thomas Abranson; Democrat: Town Clerk, William L. Johnson; Tax Collector, J. Howard Hardscastle; Treasurer of Board, Adam Lind; Constable, Charles F. Hummel and Benjamin Baldwin.

In Glen Ridge borough there was only one ticket in the field, called the one ticket, and it was elected as follows: Mayor, Robert S. Kull; Councilmen, A. R. Brewer and John W. Reddick; Commissioner of Appeal, T. L. Lingsch; Surveyors, Henry Van Derschauf and C. Fritz.

At Montclair, C. W. Sandford, for member of the Town Council, was elected. The Ward had no opposition. A similar condition of affairs prevailed in the Third Ward, where Henry V. Crawford was the candidate. Both are Republicans. Mr. Harrison, Republican, was elected in the First Ward, and Willis Dupuy, Democrat, in the Fourth.

Democrats Win in Orange.
The election in Orange resulted in a landslide for the Democrats. S. Clarkson Cuff, the colored coachman, who was running for School Commissioner in the First Ward, was beaten by the Democratic candidate, Charles Holt.

The outcome gives the Democrats a working majority in the Council. The victorious candidates were: First Ward, Daniel Maloney; Second Ward, John O'Hagen; Third Ward, Randolph Rodman; Fourth Ward, John L. Davis; Fifth Ward, James Quinn.

In East Orange, George H. Graham, a New York lawyer, and independent candidate for Committee at-Large, whose name was put up on Monday night against Andrew Valerig, looked like a winner late last night.

As the Journal predicted yesterday, "Judge" Morrow was elected Mayor of Belvidere. Two Democrats and one Republican were elected to the Common Council.

The other elections throughout Warren County resulted as follows: Washington elected a temperance ticket throughout. All were Republicans. William Vannatta was chosen Mayor. There will be no school, however, as the license for this year have already been granted. Hackensack again chose Mayor Hearty, Democrat, and the entire Democratic Council.

At Phillipsburg the Republicans re-elected B. C. Frost Mayor by 146 majority. A. L. Kelly, Republican, defeated Frank Wambold, Democrat, for auditor by 100 votes. The Democrats gained the three other minor city offices.

The election at Clinton resulted as follows: Mayor, L. B. Baker, Republican; Council, J. W. Allegar, Charles Jeffery, John Case, Republicans, and Isaac Greiling, George B. Smith and Charles L. Grampton, Democrats; Constable, Joseph W. Berry, Republican; Justice of the Peace, William H. Johnson, Republican.

At Lambertville William E. Wagg, Republican, was elected Mayor by over 200 majority. This is the first Republican Mayor in eight years. The Democrats elected two Councilmen, Louis Guillek and Dr. W. L. Larkin, and the Republicans one, Edward Rittenhouse. The Democrats have a majority in Council for the first time in ten years. In the First Ward A. C. Gaudy, Republican, was elected Freeholder by 17 majority.

"CADDY" BOYS ARE ON STRIKE.

Members of the Nutley, N. J., Golf Club Chase Balls Themselves.

LADS GUY THE SPORTS.

Jeers of the Strikers Make Things Unpleasant for the Players. Demand an Increase in Pay.

The "caddy" boys who chase the balls, carry the bags and sticks and do other useful things for the members of the Nutley Golf Club are on strike. This is the first real labor difficulty Nutley has experienced. It may result in more than a temporary cessation of the sport in that exclusive neighborhood.

Pending the settlement of the trouble the golf players are making heroic efforts to get along without help. Up to date, their efforts have not been highly successful.

Twenty-five boys are ordinarily employed on the links. Their remuneration up to last Sunday was 15 cents for each round of nine holes.

The boys were noticeably not as enthusiastic in their work last Sunday as usual, and they often stopped chasing the balls to talk among themselves. They formed a resolution to strike for 25 cents a round.

The crash came Sunday afternoon. There was a general gathering of fashion and literary talent, arrayed in golf clothes, at the Links. The "caddy" boys had overlooked their usual custom of calling at the various houses and gathering in the necessary articles for the game, and the players had to lug the things to the grounds themselves.

Fredrickson, William H. Boardman, president of the club, arrived. He had to carry his own implements of play. He saw the evidences of overwork and exhaustion on all sides, and then saw the boys. Billy

Boardman, who is a member of the club, was the first to see the boys. He saw them standing in a line, looking at the players with a look of defiance.

WRECKED THROUGH A FLYING SWITCH.

The Brake Failed, and Three Were Hurt in the Collision.

MEN WERE CUT OUT OF CAR

They Were Cleaning the Coach When It Was Overtaken by the Wild Train.

A flying switch and a defective brake early yesterday morning caused an accident in the train shed of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Jersey City, that resulted in a passenger coach being sent flying from the rails and three men being injured. The men were imprisoned in the wreck and had to be cut out with axes.

Shortly after 2 a. m. a train of cars was sent down from the Waldo avenue yard to the station. The drill engine, after imparting sufficient momentum to the train to send it down the grade to the station, cut loose at Warren street. It was the intention to switch the train on track No. 17, about the middle of the big depot.

William Welsh, brakeman, stood on the front platform of the first car, and as the train struck the down grade he started to apply the brake, as the train was moving too rapidly. The brake would not work, and after vainly endeavoring to stop the train Welsh ran back to the brake on the second car. Before he could slow down there was a collision.

At the end of the track stood car No. 432. In it were three railroad men, who were busy at work cleaning up. The car received the full force of the collision, the impact being so violent that the body of car No. 432 was torn from the trucks and sent flying across the platform.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS THE CONFERENCE.

Gentler Sex Politely but Firmly Denied Equal Rights.

THE POLITICIANS SCORED.

Have Done Nothing for Temperance—Appointment of Pastors Closes the Session in Newark.

By a vote of 105 to 70 the Newark Methodist Episcopal conference yesterday rejected the proposed constitutional amendment admitting women to the conference on an equal footing with the men. This action was not a surprise, as it was generally known that the opponents of woman suffrage had a majority. The proposed amendment to equalize lay and clerical representation in the conference was also defeated, the vote being 55 for to 115 against.

There was no debate on the woman suffrage proposition, but the Rev. Dr. Daniel Halloran, of Jersey City, made a set speech in opposition. "Women's hands are not tied in the blessed work of humanity and Christianity by being excluded from the General Conference," he said. "If women are to be admitted, what can she do? Don't impose duty that the women in their largest majority refuse to accept."

Prior to the voting on the constitutional amendments the conference hurried through a lot of work incident to the last day of the session. Standing committees for the year were elected and Treasurer Palmer's annual report received. This showed collections for various purposes in the following order of districts: Elizabeth, Jersey City, Newark, Paterson—missions, $40,300, an increase of $1,711; church extension, $2,870, a decrease of $25
